

2012 Courses of Interest to International Regulators

NAIC Education & Training is pleased to offer several courses that appeal to a global audience. Additional information can be found online at education.naic.org. Please contact us with any questions at education@naic.org or 816-783-8200.

Classroom

Traditional classroom setting. Classroom courses held at the NAIC Central Office may have a maximum of 45 students; classroom courses open to the public held in other locations generally have no limitations on the number of registrations. For regulator-only courses, the number of international regulators is limited to no more than two from a country, with a maximum of four international regulators—until the registration deadline closes. If space remains, additional international regulators will be accepted on a space-available basis.

COURSES	AUDIENCE	LEVEL	DATE	LOCATION	TUITION
International Insurance Forum	Public	All	May 10-11	Washington, D.C.	$845
Designed to explore recent and continuing developments and progress in international insurance regulation and the global financial services markets and to raise awareness of the issues in the global insurance marketplace for the industry and regulatory community.
Management & Leadership Effectiveness	Regulator Only	Senior	November 5-7	Kansas City	$695
A comprehensive course on management and leadership including such topics as: strategic planning, budgeting, project management, interviewing and selection, ethics, conflict resolution, and many more.
Continuing Legal Education Seminar	Public	All	December 5	Washington, D.C.	$695

Designed to facilitate personal networking and provide important information on issues every attorney in the field of insurance or insurance regulation should know.

Online

Length ranges from one to four weeks. These are facilitated, asynchronous, online courses requiring 2-3 hours of time per day during the course. Participants will have access to coursework 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Depending on the course, activities may include listening to lectures, reading, small group work, online discussions, and other activities. Enrollment is limited to allow for a quality learning experience. For regulator-only courses, the number of international regulators is limited to no more than two from a country, with a maximum of four international regulators—until the registration deadline closes. If space remains, additional international regulators will be accepted on a space-available basis.

COURSES	AUDIENCE	LEVEL	DATE	LOCATION	TUITION
Basic Reinsurance	Public	Basic	July 23-30 or October 22-29	NAICOnline.org	$595
Explains the intricacies of the reinsurance industry, the types and forms of reinsurance, how risk is transferred, what is involved in reinsurance contracts, and how to apply statutory reporting requirements.
Corporate Governance	Regulator Only	Intermediate	Oct 29-Nov 5	NAICOnline.org	$495
Offers a vital look into the interrelationship of the regulatory policies that affect the insurance industry and the interpretations of compliance of these policies by the insurers.
Foundations of Insurance Regulation	Regulator Only	Basic	April 2-16 or August 6-20	NAICOnline.org	$595
An introductory course for non-financial regulators, provides a comprehensive introduction to various aspects of insurance, i.e., risk, indemnity, insurable interest, pooling.
Introduction to Financial Regulation	Regulator Only	Basic	May 7-June 3 or Sept 4-Oct 2	NAICOnline.org	$795
Overview of basic insurance principles, annual statements, assets and liabilities, SAP and GAAP, financial analysis, examinations, accreditations, Risk-Based Capital, I-SITE, and reinsurance are covered.
Introduction to International Regulation	Regulator Only	Basic	March 19-26	NAICOnline.org	$495
Provides a foundation of the historical context of current movements in the global scope of insurance regulation.
Principle-Based Reserving	Regulator Only	Senior	June 11-25	NAICOnline.org	$695
Learn the principle-based valuation system and how this new approach will change financial examination procedures.

Online (Continued)

Length ranges from one to four weeks. These are facilitated, asynchronous, online courses requiring 2-3 hours of time per day during the course. Participants will have access to coursework 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Depending on the course, activities may include listening to lectures, reading, small group work, online discussions, and other activities. Enrollment is limited to allow for a quality learning experience. For regulator-only courses, the number of international regulators is limited to no more than two from a country, with a maximum of four international regulators—until the registration deadline closes. If space remains, additional international regulators will be accepted on a space-available basis.

COURSES	AUDIENCE	LEVEL	DATE	LOCATION	TUITION
Regulating for Solvency	Regulator Only	Intermediate	Aug 27-Sept 18	NAICOnline.org	$695

Covers the scope of regulatory authority; financial reporting, analysis, and examinations; receivership and guaranty funds, special functions such as P&C, actuarial, investment risk, and reinsurance; and accreditation.

Regulation of Insurance Products	Regulator Only	Basic	February 6-27 or July 9-30	NAICOnline.org	$695
----------------------------------	----------------	-------	-------------------------------	----------------	-------

Learn how insurers price the products they sell, evaluate property and casualty rates, and monitor sales of life insurance. Teaches the use of such regulatory efficiency tools as SERFF, the review standards checklist, uniform product naming standards, and filing metrics.

Risk-Based Capital	Regulator Only	Intermediate	October 8-22	NAICOnline.org	$595
--------------------	----------------	--------------	--------------	----------------	-------

Provides regulators with an overview of RBC.

Self-Study

Six weeks is allowed for reading/studying the materials/text; an examination is then taken online. Must begin on a Monday and give two weeks notice when enrolling.

COURSES	AUDIENCE	LEVEL	DATE	LOCATION	TUITION
Basic Insurance Self-Study	Public	Basic	Available any Monday	Exam taken online	$199

Provides both a working knowledge of insurance as well as a balanced, systems-oriented perspective of how to protect and meet the needs of consumers.

Online Self-Study

Online self-study including listening to lectures, reading materials, taking quizzes, and completing assignments. No facilitator. Must begin on a Monday and give two weeks notice when enrolling.

COURSES	AUDIENCE	LEVEL	DATE	LOCATION	TUITION
Core Legal	Public	Basic	Available any Monday	NAICOnline.org	$445

Designed primarily for attorneys with less than five years of experience in insurance regulation or compliance who wish to develop a better—or broader—understanding of their role within the state regulatory framework.

Statutory Accounting Principles 101	Public	Basic	Available any Monday	NAICOnline.org	$445
-------------------------------------	--------	-------	----------------------	----------------	-------

Serves as a foundational introduction to the NAIC's SAP series of learning events. This course is designed for those who are new to statutory accounting or have very limited (2 years or less) experience with the application of statutory accounting principles.

Webinar

A live web and audio conference combination.

COURSES	AUDIENCE	LEVEL	DATE	LOCATION	TUITION
Emerging International Issues	Public	Basic	September 6	Webinar	$240

Provides information and training in current issues and topics related to international issues.

How to Analyze Insurer Investment Portfolios	Regulator Only	Intermediate	June 14	Webinar	$550
--	----------------	--------------	---------	---------	-------

Specialized training for financial examiners and analysts on analyzing insurer investment portfolios.

Solvency Modernization	Public	Basic	September 27	Webinar	$240
------------------------	--------	-------	--------------	---------	-------

Designed to acquaint participants with the purpose and objectives of the NAIC's Solvency Modernization Initiative.