

Corporate Governance Online

November 14-21, 2011

The business of insurance in the United States is huge. There are about 8,000 domestic insurers in the U.S. with a premium volume of almost 1.7 trillion dollars. However, the latest trends show that the public has less confidence in big business and even less in the insurance business. State regulators are increasingly under more pressure to regulate more effectively but also more fairly and uniformly. Do you have the tools to do this?

Corporate Governance is a PIR-level Designation Program course that offers a vital look into the interrelationship of the regulatory policies that affect the insurance industry and the interpretations of compliance of these policies by the insurers.

This course has been updated to include the latest initiatives from the Corporate Governance Working Group including the core principles of the US Financial Solvency Framework and comparisons to the corporate governance principles of the IAIS.

This course will cover the following topics:

- Company Management
- Legal Concepts
- Corporate Compliance
- Corporate Governance in the US Solvency Framework
- International Association of Insurance Supervisors (IAIS)
- Corporate Governance Working Group

Corporate Governance is designed primarily for state insurance department staff responsible for financial regulation. However, any interested regulator will benefit from the course.

What others have said:

- I found the course excellent, and it will be very helpful in my future assignments. I would strongly recommend to everybody who has not taken this course.
- The discussions were very effective as they provide “real life” situations of the subject matter, as well as identify additional solutions to problems and issues that may need to be considered.
- I think the course is very timely because corporate governance is definitely an area that is receiving increased attention lately.

Tuition

- $295 for State Insurance Department Staff
- $495 for All Other Regulators

Provides comprehensive course materials, access to subject matter experts who serve as course facilitators, and the opportunity to network with others from across the country.

Our Recommendations for Your Online Study

- Determine whether online learning is something you will benefit from by taking the short "Is Online Learning for Me" quiz at www.naiconline.org and check your technical requirements prior to enrolling.
- Plan your study time in advance.
 - Online courses offer great flexibility but also require self-motivation, commitment, good time management skills, and space in which to study. You need to be able to fit your study time into your own work schedule.
- Review your course materials and the Handbook for Distance Learners that will arrive the week prior to the course.
- Set learning goals for yourself based on what you hope to accomplish by taking this class.
- Familiarize yourself with information in the course syllabus.
- Spend a minimum of two hours a day on your study.

Cancellation Policy

Withdrawals for full refund are permitted up to three weeks before the beginning date of the course; cancellations after this date will result in no refund. Notification of cancellation must be received in writing. If issued, refunds will be mailed after the completion of the course. Substitutions are accepted up to one week before the course begins.
