

Paul DeAngelo Professional Development Scholarship

General Information

Purpose

In May 2000 the NAIC Education and Research Foundation established a scholarship in memory of Paul DeAngelo, formerly with the New Jersey Insurance Department, in recognition of his contributions in the area of market conduct insurance regulation. The professional development scholarship provides funding for insurance regulators interested in attending NAIC-sponsored education courses and seminars, or enrolling in NAIC's Insurance Regulator Professional Designation Program.

Scholarship amount

Twenty scholarships are available annually in individual amounts of $1,000 to cover tuition for NAIC courses or seminars, direct travel expenses incurred when attending a course (airfare, ground transportation, meals, and lodging) and/or NAIC Designation Program enrollment fees (excluding test re-take fees). Expenses are reimbursed in an amount up to $1,000. Expenditures over $1,000 remain the responsibility of the scholarship recipient. Scholarship applicants are encouraged to plan their professional development activities early. Scholarship funds must be used for the year awarded and will not be carried over to the following year.

Information required from applicants

To establish eligibility for a scholarship, applicants must submit the following materials:

- A letter of recommendation from a Commissioner.
- A completed application form.

Criteria for selection

To qualify, applicants must be currently serving as a full-time staff member of a state insurance department. Only two applicants per state, per year will be awarded. Scholarships are non-transferable.

Deadline for application

Application materials must be submitted by November 1.

Note: All qualified applicants will have an equal opportunity to compete for the scholarship. There will be no restriction as to race, color, religion, gender, national origin, age, handicap or disability, veteran status, sexual orientation or other status protected by law of the prospective recipient.
